PRESS RELEASE

D-SLR cameras are first choice for professionals and enthusiastic amateurs - as a result the market share is constantly increasing. With battery grips from ANSMANN the camera will be a marathon-runner and the handling, (especially for users with bigger hands), is much improved. Due to the built-in high performance batteries, more than 1000 shots is now realistic and the weight of the grip is still kept low. Currently ANSMANN are offering 10 different battery grips for the most popular D-SLR cameras from Canon, Nikon, Pentax and Panasonic. The battery grip is normally sold in a set together with a power supply (except P-10p, N-200). Every battery grip with "pro" in the name is equipped with a vertical release in combination with camera specific function buttons and wheels (Note: PA-10 only vertical release). Perfect for photographers that are often on location: Every "pro" grip is equipped with a 12 V car adaptor. The prices for these ANSMANN grips are very attractive; especially compared with the original grips and it is not necessary to buy an additional battery pack. ANSMANN provides a 2 year warranty.
